Estefano Isaias Ecuador requested asylum in US

(http://i.eldiario.com.ec/fotos-manabi-ecuador/1216177330.jpg)

Estefano Isaias, younger brother of William and Roberto, involved in the case Filanbanco by the Ecuadorian government seized last week of 195 companies, called territorial asylum in the United States, his lawyer said Tuesday. The decision was adopted to be considered a persecuted by the Government of Ecuador since, according to his version, he would order the withdrawal of his residence visa in that country.

Tuesday July 15, 2008 | 21:59

Jorge Zavala, lawyer Estefano Isaias said at a news conference that his client was informed last Sunday that allegedly the Ecuadorian government, through the Foreign Ministry has requested the cancellation of his visa. Zavala revealed that his client learned this when he returned to the United States from the Dominican Republic and "in order to protect the Government decided to seek asylum in the United States." "In consequence he said, Estefano Isaias is under the protection of the US government until it is processed, it substantiates and asylum petitionee decide." Estefano Isaias served as administrator of the estate Isaiah Dassum Group, in the absence of his brothers, former bankers William and Roberto, whose extradition the United States has been requested by Ecuador. Estefano Isaias is currently in Miami, where he noted that due legal action initiated by the seizure of their assets by the Deposit Guarantee Agency (AGD) of Ecuador. A week ago the AGD seized 195 companies Isaiah group, which included several media, including TV channels TC-TV, Gamavisión and Cable News (CN3). The AGD seeks to recover the money the state spent to clean up a score of intervened banks after the financial crisis that erupted between 1998 and 1999, considered the worst in history and that cost more than 8,000 million. That agency maintains a trial for alleged embezzlement of state money given to Filanbanco, whose owners were Roberto and William Isaias brothers, whose extradition the United States requested Ecuador to submit to justice, although the possibility of requesting it also analyzes the deportation. Zavala revealed the decision to his client a day after a judge in Ecuador "ordered that" the amparo brought to a manager week of TC-Television, Jorge Kronfle canal ago to set aside the seizure of the means of communication. Judge civil, Shirley Ronquillo, city of Guayaquil in western Ecuador, requested that the application is filed arguing that the petition meets the "minimum formal requirements" for processing, today published the newspaper El Comercio. Another reason why Ronquillo requested the file under the resolution of the Constituent Assembly of Ecuador that prohibits all courts handle any legal action against the seizure of the AGD made eight days ago. Kronfle last Thursday brought the amparo before the Court of Guayaquil to ensure that the seizure of the AGD was "illegal". The president of Ecuador, Rafael Correa, said that with the state seizure of the Isaias Group 195 companies "just beginning" the battle against the family emporium, published yesterday by the newspaper the Telegraph. Correa on Saturday said that the State assets seized from the Isaias could only cover about a third of the losses attributed to the closed Filanbanco bank. Correa said "probably not seized assets totaling more than 200 million dollars" and recalled that "what he has lost" the State and depositors totaled 661.5 million dollars.

Otra de las razones por las que Ronquillo pidió el archivo de amparo es la resolución de la Asamblea Constituyente de Ecuador que prohíbe a todos los tribunales de justicia tramitar alguna acción legal en contra la incautación de la AGD efectuada hace ochos días.
